Subject: More Fun with Miniatures - 28 mm list

Those of you who would like to replace Command and Colors Ancients blocks with miniature figures might be interested in this. I visited the Foundry site and listed all the beautiful 28 mm figures that would work as Republican Romans and Carthaginians in the Punic War era that Command and Colors Ancients represents. Here are the figure lists I came up with.

I imagine each infantry would be mounted on a 20 mm or 25 mm round or square base. Cavalry on a 20 or 25 mm by 40 or 50 mm rectangle. Elephants and chariots on 50 mm square base. These would fit into an 80 or 100 mm hex (measured point to point).

Note: Column C is the block count. FCode is the Foundry pack code. # is the number of figures in a Foundry pack, Prc is the price per pack (and taking a discount when 3 identical packs are required), P is the number of packs needed and Cost is for the number of packs.

Observations: Elephants, chariots, and cav are expensive. $200 on elephants alone! I have my original spreadsheet with Foundry pictures - this set is awesome looking.
